We believe it is important for employers to recognize the commitment and dedication necessary for a student to successfully complete the IU-IDB MBA Program. Participation will require absence from the workplace during the four one-week residency courses that are required throughout the 24-month program. In addition, we estimate the average time commitment for students to be 15 to 20 study hours per week, which can be performed at any time that is convenient to the student.

Your signature below indicates that you are aware of the applicant's intent to participate in the program. If this applicant is accepted, your organization agrees to allow the participant to attend classes and residencies as required by the program.
